WARRINGTON CAMPUS

University of Chester

WELCOME

Proud of our long history and traditions, the University of Chester has always had an unwavering commitment to the pursuit of truth and freedom of enquiry.

This series of public lectures is a wonderful example of the University's values, as we seek to demonstrate the importance and strength of local partnership in our areas of teaching and research at the Warrington Campus – Policing, Health and Social Care, Media, Education, Business and Sport.

We are delighted to be hosting a selection of distinguished and notable industry speakers from both the public and private sector, as we explore disability equality matters, the police and crime plan for Cheshire, life as a BBC Breakfast presenter and popular TV personality, the Mayor of Warrington's drive for cohesion in the business and charity world, the Warrington Wolves as a community business and the Cheshire and Warrington LEP's plans to grow the local economy a year after the referendum.

We very much look forward to welcoming you to the Warrington Campus of the University of Chester.

Councillor Faisal Rashid,
Mayor of Warrington:

THE IMPORTANCE OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT: MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN EVERY PART OF THE COMMUNITY

Councillor Faisal Rashid is the 133rd Mayor and first citizen of Warrington.

As Mayor he is planning to continue to honour tradition, attending and promoting local engagements. He is also planning, however, to add new aspects to the role which he hopes will benefit the people of Warrington. One of these will be the new 'Mayor's Achievement Awards' to recognise those who have made considerable contribution to the society and community of Warrington.

To support businesses and charities Cllr Rashid plans to launch 'Circle –The Future for Warrington' a business networking initiative with money raised going to charity.

Cllr Rashid's drive for cohesion in Warrington's business and charity worlds extends to its communities with a desire to see more close-knit, supportive environments across the borough.

A family man, married to Aleeza, the Mayoress, and a graduate with a Masters in Business Administration, he came to Warrington for the first time in 1998 from Manchester after falling in love with the town and its green open spaces.

Cllr Rashid bought a house in Warrington whilst continuing to commute to work in Manchester. Despite working full time and caring for his family he also started to get involved in the local community.

In 2006 he started working as a relationship manager at NatWest in Warrington and became ever more actively involved in Warrington's community and many initiatives.

He also recognises the need for supporting local businesses which make an immense contribution towards the economy, creating jobs and wealth, benefiting the whole town.

With his passion and continuous striving to make a difference it seemed a natural progression for him to become a councillor which he did in 2011. He has for many years been involved in working for the communities in Chapelford and Old Hall (Whittle Hall ward).

Food and cooking is another love of Cllr Rashid's life, liking Chinese, Italian and Indian cuisine and he loves nothing more than getting the bbq out for family and friends. Luckily he also enjoys sport and over the years has played basketball, cricket and table tennis. These days, with spare time being limited, he has no time for sport.

Balancing a full time job, family and love for helping others, he wants to highlight what can be achieved in terms of the way we work together.

Cllr Rashid has a goal to see Warrington flourish, to be somewhere people consider a great place to live, work, run a business, raise a family and have a good life.
